Shriners From the North.

A special train of eleven cars bearing Shriners for the Los Angeles gathering, passed thru McCook, Tuesday night about nine o'clock, bound for the coast. The special was made up of Shriners from Saint Paul and Minneapolis, Minn., and Winnipeg, Canada, and a gay bunch were they. The train remained here several minutes for change of engine and of crew, and Shriners made good use of the opportunity to get out of the cars and stretch themselves. The Kanuck contingent carries a bagpipe and drum band of a dozen or more with them, and they enlivened and inspired the occasion with a lively march up and down platform for several minutes, many Shriners joining in the parade. Quite a number of the members of Sessotris shrine living here went to the train and enjoyed meeting the brethren from the North.

Mothers' Day, May 12th.

To the people of McCook: Sunday, May 12th, has been set apart by the people of this country as Mothers' Day, every person to wear on that day a flower in honor of his mother, and I have been requested to ask for general compliance with the suggestion.

Therefore, in pursuance of this request and as mayor of the city, I hereby recommend that by general consent Sunday, May 12, 1912, be set apart as Mothers' Day and on that day every man, woman and boy in the city and every visitor within our gates wear a flower in honor of his mother.

I suggest that the day be made a special occasion, for sending flowers to the invalids in McCook homes, to the sick in hospitals and to the orphans in public and denominational institutions. It is eminently fitting that in this, as in other worthy movements, McCook take the lead.

D. F. HOSTETTER, Mayor.

A Capital Sentence.

This is a gem of English description dug out of an English newspaper by Richard V. Oulahan, the chief foreign correspondent of the New York Sun:

"Just as the sun rose to flood England with glorious, life-giving light, giving cheer to thousands of workers who rose in the cold, gray dawn, James Hackett—forty-two—a laborer, for the murder of his wife, Jane Hackett—forty-three—a barmaid at the Rose and Crown, on the twenty-seventh of last month, under particularly distressing circumstances—to wit, in which the unfortunate woman was strangled by her drunken husband—paid the extreme penalty for his crime, namely—death."

The Sherwin-Williams Paint Is a True Preservative.

The moment undue moisture invades wood, brick or stone deterioration sets in. Your house, your barn and your fences all need protection, a good firm coating that will keep out dampness and its attendant evils. You can't really protect an indoor or outdoor surface with thin, weak paint, any more than you can protect them with a layer of wet paper. You certainly can't expect attractiveness from paint that has a dirty, washed out appearance after it is dry. Remove all doubt by using S. W. Paint. McCONNELL, Druggist.

Only One Saloon Open.

Since 8 o'clock, Tuesday night, but one saloon in McCook has been in operation—that of D. P. Clouse of West B street. As a result of the remonstrances filed against the other five, and the appeal taken from the decision of the city council in favor of issuing the licenses prayed for, the five saloons have closed and will probably remain closed until the matter is adjudicated in district court which opens its May session in McCook, next Monday morning, the 6th instant.

Besides the Clouse oasis, however, there are enough places known to the wise where liquid refreshments may be secured, and consequently it is not apprehended that there will be any real suffering during the brief "dry" hiatus.
